

ACROSTICS

If you are like me, you'll need to refresh your memory from distant educational times! An acrostic poem is one in which the first letters of each line spell out a word or phrase vertically that acts as the theme or message of the poem. The Mothers' Union branch in Rothbury enjoyed writing acrostics around EASTER time and Alison Ball sent one of them to me. As Alison observed, it is amazing how the story of Easter can be reflected in a few simple lines of words.

EASTER

Evening - a last meal with friends
Arrested - betrayed by a friend
Sacrificed for us and laid in a
Tomb sealed with a stone but
Empy in the morning!
Resurrection - opening the door to Heaven.

Alison Ball

Thank you, Alison. It inspired me to experiment, and 'MU at 150' was on my mind.
