

He is Risen

He is risen indeed!

The Light of the World has split open the spars of pain and betrayal.

The gateway between heaven and earth is opened – even the emptiness of hell is pierced with the warmth and joy of the light of Christ.

May the light of Christ break through all the barriers in your life - whatever darkness you may be experiencing – whatever regrets you may have – whatever broken dreams you have – whatever illusions of importance you may be enjoying – whatever imaginings of inadequacy which trouble you, or shame of failures, – and even through the pain of your deepest loss...

This Eastertide

May you know, deep within your heart and wonderings,
that you are loved beyond measure;
that the light of Christ burns within you;
that in Him, you are raised up to more than you ever thought you could be...
and called to raise others in the light of his love.

Joy and Blessings be yours this Easter.
